Dear IDeA PIs & INBRE PCs -

A few months ago, our Best Practices Working Group shared with you that the NAIPI website is online and we should share ideas. An area within the website provides access to answers, guidance, and inspiration from other COBRE, INBRE, and CTR programs. Categories include: Faculty Mentoring, Program Management, Community Engagement, CORES, Students, and General. Please follow this link <http://naipi.org/idea-resources/best-practices/> to review the initial entries. The sharing of ideas, challenges, solutions and successes will benefit us all.

Please respond to this email with a one-page white paper outlining the key components of any aspect of your program that you are particularly proud of - nothing is 'off the table' and all topics are welcome. Send you best practice(s) to Mary Glover and Dr. Dhanasekaran at the following emails:

Mary-Glover@ouhsc.edu and Danny-Dhanasekaran@ouhsc.edu

While each of our programs vary, we all share the common goal of furthering research and the required infrastructure for successful research programs. A library of effective initiatives, procedures and practices will be mutually beneficial to all of us. Your contributions are necessary and greatly appreciated.

Please don't hesitate to ask questions and thanks in advance for submitting your program's best practice and for your feedback.

From your Best Practices Working Group,
Danny Dhanasekaran, Chair
Steve Fiering
Barb Goodman
Sam Minnich
Mark Smeltzer
Steven Ward
